

Information passed on by us

GP One GmbH does not disclose any personal data to Companies, Organisations or Persons, except in one of the following circumstances:

- With your consent

Personal data is only passed on to Companies, Organisations or Persons outside of GP One GmbH if we have received your consent to do so. We require opt-in consent for the sharing of any sensitive personal data.

- For processing externally

Your personal data is only made available to our partners, trusted businesses or persons if we have commissioned them to process these for us.

- For legal reasons

GP One GmbH only discloses personal data with Companies, Organisations or Persons if it is deemed necessary that access to this data or its use, storage or disclosure of the information is absolutely necessary:

- To meet any applicable law, regulation, enforceable government process or legal process.
- To enforce applicable Terms of Service, including investigation of potential violations.
- To detect and prevent fraud, security issues or technical problems.
- To protect the rights, property or safety of GP One GmbH or the public from damages as legally permissible or necessary.

The confidentiality of any personal data is guaranteed by us in the event that GP One GmbH is involved in a merger, acquisition or asset sale. Affected users will be notified in a timely manner before the disclosure of any personal data or if they become subject of a different privacy policy.

Data Protection

We strive intensively to ensure and prevent unauthorised access to GP One GmbH and against unauthorised alteration, disclosure or destruction of data that we possess.

To prevent unauthorised access to our systems, we regularly review our practices for collection, storage and processing, including physical security measures.

The access to personal data is restricted to employees and contractors only by GP One GmbH, whom requires knowledge of this information or has to process it.

They are subject to strict confidentiality obligations, which can lead to disciplinary measures or termination of contract, if these obligations are not adhered.

We encrypt many of our services using SSL.

Data Protection Application

Our privacy policy applies to all services provided by GP One GmbH and its affiliates. Services which are offered by other Companies or Persons, including products and websites, which possibly contain GP One GmbH services, are not valid with our privacy policy.

Compliance with Authorities

The compliance of our privacy policy is regularly reviewed. If we receive a formal written complaint, we contact the person to handle the complaint. In cases we cannot resolve a complaint about the disclosure of personal data from users; we work together with the relevant regulatory authorities, including local data protection authorities.

Amendments

It is possible that from time to time our privacy policy can be amended. Should changes to our privacy policy occur then they will be published by us on this site. Prior versions of this privacy policy will be archived and made available to you for review.

Additional Points regarding GSI Services

● Opt-out

Should you wish to contradict the storage of your data at GSI, then please let us know your IP address. For verification of your IP address, we will require the contractual confirmation of your ISP, as well as the confirmation that the IP address is a static IP and that this IP address has only been assigned to you.

● Data which GSI collects

- IP as hash string (illegible)
- Information about a browser
- Geo-Location
- Interaction with a website/advertising material

- Usage of Data

GSI uses the data to 100% to establish, if fraud or no fraud incurred.

GSI does not use personal data but sees your data as a whole as a collective.
